The diagram features a central line drawing of a right hand with fingers spread. Five rectangular boxes are arranged around the hand, each connected to a specific finger by a line. The boxes are labeled as follows: 'Then,' at the top (connected to the index finger), 'Next,' on the left (connected to the middle finger), 'After that,' on the right (connected to the ring finger), 'First,' on the bottom left (connected to the thumb), and 'Finally,' on the bottom right (connected to the pinky finger). The entire worksheet is framed by a light green border with several green stars scattered around the top and sides.
